

Enhance your corporate facility with NEC digital signage solutions

First impressions are crucial — particularly in the business world.

Even before the first handshake, you can make a lasting impression on new clients, employees and guests with lobby display solutions from NEC. Highly flexible and instantly updateable, digital displays give your company the ability to tailor rich-media content to a variety of screen applications. Send a clear, powerful branding message through corporate videos. Lobbies are no longer waiting rooms; by going digital, they can be interactive, dynamic backdrops to your most important business meet-and-greets.

NEC digital signage solutions:

- » decrease perceived wait time. If you're running late for a meeting, guests can be occupied and entertained with TV programming and other video content.
- » tell your success stories. Roll video with testimonials from satisfied clients and your most brilliant case studies.
- » increase your contacts. Interactive kiosks can encourage guests to leave behind their information for future mailings or business opportunities.

Liven up your lobby...digital signage can provide visual impact.
