

Enhance your public information facility with NEC digital signage solutions

In high-traffic, public areas, visual clutter can be overwhelming for visitors trying to pick up vital information. Cut through the clutter and simplify your messaging with the sleek digital offerings of NEC display solutions. Information can be dynamically displayed through video and sound, making the most of your message and your investment. Through user-friendly, web-based software, you can instantly change admission prices, information alerts and last-minute promotions—without the hassle of putting costly orders in for printing and shipping. Empower your visitors with easy access to interactive, way-finding maps and feedback kiosks.

NEC digital signage solutions:

- » enable you to offer printouts on demand. Touchscreen kiosks can help visitors customize maps and brochures to take with them.
- » allow you to design your own content. NEC offers easy-to-use templates that can be customized to fit with your branding specifications.
- » help you go green. For facilities that emphasize environmental stewardship, NEC displays are the perfect fit with energy-saving technology and safety features.
- » let you trade out the old for the new. NEC's Total Trade™ program gives you cash for your outdated technology to use toward new NEC products.
