

We've got a different name....

but we're the
same display
company
you've always known.

Effective April 1, 2005, NEC-Mitsubishi Electronics Display of America, Inc., will change its name to:

NEC Display Solutions of America, Inc.

This change will have no impact on our products, programs, services or agreements with customers, vendors and partners. The company will continue to offer the kinds of award-winning programs and services to our channel and end-user customers that have helped make us the leading stand-alone vendor of flat-panel desktop displays.

Thank you for your continued support of our business. For more information, call 866-NEC-MORE.
